L'humanité des autres

MONTAIGNE DÉCOLONIAL?

Albin Michel

"Each man calls barbarism whatever is not his own practice."—Montaigne

How to speak of humanism today? To answer this question, Moroccan philosopher Ali Benmakhlouf turns to Montaigne (1533–1592). Through a rich and attentive reading of key passages of Montaigne's Essays, Benmakhlouf reminds us why the sixteenth-century author remains relevant today when the need to recognize the "humanity of others" —from the cry of "Black Lives Matter" to the anonymous deaths of migrants drowning in the Mediterranean Sea—is as urgent as ever.
